HISTORICAL RECORD OF THE HOLMSLEY FAMILY

By Carrie Holmsley Cunningham

The Holmsley family originated in England. In the early years of English history they went by the name of Holmes. They were land owners and their estates were known as Holmes land, Holmes lea and Holmes ley, all meaning pasture land. For many years it was better known as Holmes ley. In time the name was changed to Holmesley and Queen Victoria created a Holmesley Earldom. In the later part of the eighteenth century the family began to migrate to America. John R. Holmesley, his family and two brothers were the first to make this move. They came through the Gulf of Mexico, then up the Mississippi to where Memphis, Tennessee is now located. John R. went from there to Kentucky where two of his sons, James and Burrell were born. He then moved to Missouri where Levi was born, then to Arkansas where Stephen was born. Some of his daughters were born in England and some in America. One of John's brothers, Stephen, settled in Cherryville, North Carolina. The other brother settled around Pickwick, Tennessee and we think his name was Joseph. This book is a history of the John R., Stephen and Joseph Holmesley families.

John R. Holmesley was born in England in 1762. He married Mary James in 1785. Mary James was born in Germany in 1769. She was a first cousin to Queen Victoria of England. They came to the States about the turn of the century and settled first in Tennessee. In 1824 they settled in Arkansas. John R. died in 1857 and is buried in Wesley Cemetery. Mary died in 1860.

Children of John R. and Mary James Holmesley

James, the first son, was born in 1805 and died on September 15, 1881. He was buried in Wesley, Arkansas. He married Jane or Jennie Womack who was born in 1810 and died in 1899. She was buried in Mt. Olive cemetery near Elkins, Arkansas. This couple had eighteen children. James changed the family name to Homesley shortly after he was married.

End of James Homesley Family

Burrell J., second son of John R. and Mary James Holmesley, was born in Kentucky March 6, 1807. He married Lucinda Wagon, a French lady, in January, 1832 and settled on his newly acquired farm near Cain Hill, Arkansas. Eight of their nine children were born here. Burrell became quite prosperous and was the owner of horses, mules, cattle, sheep, hogs and thirty slaves. In 1850 he sold this property and moved to Texas driving the livestock. Some days they made only three miles. They settled in Gatesville in 1851 and in the early part of 1854 with F. M. Collier and John Mercer families decided to move on to Comanche territory. Burrell J. bought lumber in the barracks at Fort Gates and hauled it to Comanche where he built his home, barns and slave quarters on what was later named Holmsleys Creek. They prospered in spite of the Comanche Indian raids. Soon other settlers came in and the County was organized in 1856.

Lucinda Wagon was born in 1812 and died in 1866 in Comanche where she is buried in Albin Cemetery. Burrell J. died in Comanche in 1891 and is also buried in Albin Cemetery.

Children of Burrell J. and Lucinda Holmsley

1. Julia Ann Holmsley, daughter of Burrell J. and Lucinda Holmsley, was born in Cain Hill, Arkansas in 1832. She married Frances Marion Collier in 1853 in Gatesville, Texas. Died in 1886. F. M. Collier was born in Tennessee on November 7, 1825 and migrated to Texas in 1853. He commanded Company D Frontier Service. He was the first clerk of Comanche County, Texas. He died in the late eighties and was buried in Meridian, Texas.

The following is a sketch from the diary of F. M. Collier.

The year 1854 was a remarkably good crop year all over Texas. It rained continually all spring and summer and all are aware that there is no poor land in Northwest Texas if it is kept wet. All grains planted and tended came up, matured and produced an abundant yield, and such a coat of mesquite grass was never seen as was seen by the old settlers of 1854 of Comanche, Brown and other Counties. Every mast bearing tree was loaded with acorns. The branches and springs were running flush all the year. This unusual wet spring and summer was followed by an open warm fall and winter. No freezing weather until after Christmas, and not much then, all of which was very fortunate to these early settlers who were there with their families and stock, and trying to form new settlements, 150 miles from nowhere — we find them on the 20th day of December, 1854, that is Frank M. Collier and his wife Julia A. Collier, Uncle Jesse Mercer, and his wife Alice Mercer, were the only whites there were in this settlement. Mercer had (15) or (20) negroes and Collier and wife (1) a negro girl named Patsy. Mrs. Mercer was Uncle Jesse's 2nd wife and was about his junior (30) years and she was very fond of something to wear, and going somewhere to wear it and was bitterly opposed to going on the frontier. During our slow and tedious trip from George Town to our Camp on Mercer Creek, a few days over (4) months, Mr. and Mrs. Mercer had quarrelled for Breakfast, Dinner, and Supper, and if there was anything between meals it was quarreling. After reaching our destination and stopping in camp for (2) days, it was so bad that Uncle Jesse's forbearance ceased to be a virtue, and from a prolonged war of words, a separation was agreed to and a general division of traps and calamities, such as children, negroes, wagons, goods, horses, quickly followed. This temporary separation, for a short time balked over calculations and apparently left the writer with no other alternative but to return to the settlement, but Uncle Jesse and Alice, both unbosomed themselves to myself and Julia, as there was no one else to talk to but negroes, and fortunately our efforts to bring about a reconciliation was availing and the matter ended with no final separation. And Alice, quit for a short time her scolding, and Uncle Jesse and myself finally selected a tract of land on Mercer Creek, 6 miles from the present town of Comanche, naming the Creek after Uncle Jesse Mercer, and improved the farm now owned by Doctor Montgomery. Upon this tract of land in 1855, I built the first cabin ever erected in Comanche County, Texas. In which cabin on the (30) day of May, 1855, was born Thomas A. Collier, our oldest child, being the first white child born in Comanche County, Texas. In a few days Burrell J. Holmsley, my father-in-law moved in from Williamson County, and settled on his tract of land 2 miles north of us on what was afterwards called Holmsleys Creek. In the latter part of February, he yoked up and started a team of oxen to breaking prairie land which was the first furrow ploughed in the County. The plow was held by Thomas J. Holmsley, and the team was driven by James Taylor. In the early part of February, 1855, Asa Reed from Octabula County, Miss., arrived in the settlement and located 2 miles further down on Holmsley Creek. About the 12th of March old Doctor Tuggle arrived and settled on Mercer Creek, near Uncle Jesse Mercer and improved himself a farm about the middle of April, 1855. John A. McGuire, Henry Martin, Sr., and Charles Isom, originally from Georgia but now from Bell County Texas, settled on land. McGuire settled on the land, now one mile below Comanche town, on Indian Creek. Henry Martin, Sr. (4) miles further down on Indian Creek, Charley Isom (2) miles below on Indian Creek. These (8) families, Mereer, Collier, Holmsley, Tuggle, Reed, McGuire, Martin, and Isom were the first settlers in the territory now embraced by the County of Comanche, Texas. In the early part of May, M. O. and Lee Cooker, came around us and put up their shanty and began to improve in good old Georgia style their homes on Indian Creek. Pretty soon old Unele Charley Campbell found himself among us from Louisiana, with him was a small family — only himself and Peggie, as he called his wife with (14) or (15) living children mostly girls. And on the 13th day of September, 1855 in his home was born another child and her name was Kate. She was the first girl child born in Comanche County, Texas. She grew up to womanhood in Comanche County and was first the wife of Dr. Albridge, who accidentally shot and killed himself, and she is now the wife of John D. Anderson of Bosque County, Texas. The writer Frank M. Collier, moved from Comanche County to Bosque County, Texas. In 1867, the first death in Comanche County, was one of Charley Isom's little girls and was caused by eating mistletoe berries that grew in abundance on the mesquite trees. The second death was the result of a personal difficulty between one of Uncle Asa Reed's sons and John Frobman from Anderson County, Texas. Frobman was buried under a live oak tree near where the killing was done.

Frank Holmsley Parker born in 1865, left Comanche, Texas when he was thirteen in the year 1878. Frank Parker made Fisher County his home the rest of his life.

Levi Holmesley, son of John R. and Mary James Holmesley, and his wife Aly left Fayetteville, Arkansas early in 1875 and started west with a covered wagon train. Alice Kathryn, their seventh child, was born in a camp wagon August 1, 1875 two days before they entered Arizona. The first house they found was at Fort Woolsey about 23 miles south of Prescott, Arizona. Levi built an adobe house on Hackberry Wash where he freighted ore and supplies for the old Peck Mine in the Bradshaw Mountains. They moved to Tempe in 1876 where they cleared a section of land and settled. The Holmesleys were the first white family in Tempe. There were others but no families.

End of Levi Holmesley Family

Stephen Holmesly, fourth son of John R. and Mary James Holmesley, was born in Arkansas about 1817 and married a Miss Vaughan about 1838. They had three boys and three girls. One boy was named Stephen and one was Benjamin Franklin. The other names are not available.

The following is a Civil War tragedy which concerns Stephen Holmesly as told by a grandson George Holmesly.

Benjamin Franklin Holmesly, father of George and son of Stephen, was camped close to the farm of Stephen Holmesly. Benjamin got permission from his commander to visit his father one evening and when he arrived at the farm, he found his father hanged and his sister tied to a tree. The sister told him the men, five in number, were Confederate renegade soldiers and they had demanded that the old man give them his money which they were sure he had. He refused to tell them where it was and they hung him. The daughter tried to protect her father so they tied her to a tree and left.

Benjamin went directly to his commander and got permission to follow them. The commander told him to capture them and not bring them back. The renegades were captured early the next morning in a grove of trees not far from the farm. Benjamin took the prisoners to the farm and told his sister to prepare breakfast for them. She said, "If I do I will poison all of them." Benjamin said, "No, I am going to eat with them as this is their last meal." After their breakfast, he took them to his commander who told Benjamin that the prisoners were his job. Benjamin told the commander that it would be better to try them which they did. The prisoners were shot the same evening.

O. B. with Brown Homsley and his family left Tennessee for Texas in 1884. They traveled as far as the Mississippi River in a hand made wagon driven by oxen. There they traded the oxen for mustang ponies and settled in Delta County, Texas where O. B. met and married Ellar Rainey. They farmed until 1900 when they decided to move further west in search of health. Traveling leisurely in their farm wagon, they moved west sleeping and cooking out and having special trials with grassburrs, grasshoppers, whirlwinds, bottomless lakes and horn toads. The three children they had by this time were easily entertained on the trip. Christmas found them at Lampassas, Texas and early in 1901 they began farming in Hamilton County. In the fall they moved on to Poolville, Texas where Brown had already settled. In 1902 they moved to Peaster, Texas where Coonie, a very special cat, was born and died. The family finally settled at Whitt, Texas in December, 1912.

End of the Family of Joseph Homesley who was a Brother of John R. and Stephen Homesley

Homesley families we were not able to catalogue:

Mrs. Wm. O. Homesley, 1707 Summit, Little Rock, Arkansas.

Marvin Homesley, Wentzville, Missouri

Any information regarding either of these families would be appreciated.

Author's Note

First, there are five spellings to the family name. James, son of John R., changed the spelling to Homesley. Burrell J. said Holmsley was correct. Levi, third son of John R., retained the original spelling of Holmesley. Stephen left out the last "e" making it Holmesly. The two brothers of John R. also used Homesley. Brown and Obediah Black, sons of William H., changed the name to Homsley.

I want to thank everyone who has cooperated with me by sending in data. Special mention of those who have gone out of their way to furnish information are Dennis Homesley of Elkins, Arkansas, Juanita Ada of Jackson, Tennessee, Cuni Bush of Belton, Texas, Sallie Stroup of Cherryville, North Carolina, M. L. Homesley of Cleburne, Texas, Geneva Adams of Prescott, Arizona, Helen Cooper of Colton, California, Willie Richards of Lockney, Texas and Bonnie Moulton of Bangor, Maine.

I also wish to thank my brother Frank Holmsley for his untiring efforts in compiling this record and my niece Betty Gunn Carson who typed the manuscript.

I have tried to make this record as complete as possible using the data received and hope no mistakes have been made. My greatest pleasure in writing this record is the friendships I have formed by way of the U. S. Mail and by special visitations.

The last Saturday and Sunday in June is the date for the family reunion in Lubbock, Texas every year. Make an effort to come.
